

Transcript of Marilyn's experience living at Palisade Gardens

When my husband Bob died, I was terribly lonely. Two years later, I had a fall and went to the hospital. I realized then that being with people was very necessary for me. I then moved into James Club at Palisade Gardens. I suddenly found myself with new friends, attending events that I enjoy and being served delicious food. The staff are amazing. At 86 years of age, I find myself happily involved in a new life.
